Shoe Game

In this game we put the Bride and Groom back to back and ask them a series of questions to find out just how well each couple knows each other. Questions range from “Who will take out the trash” to “Who said I love you first”

Elbow/Knee Game

This is a hilarious twist to find out how well the couple knows one another. To start we will have the bridesmaids and bride sitting on chairs in a line. We will blindfold the groom and have him come in and guess which one his bride is by touching the elbows of each lady. Once he has made his guess the host will have him remove his blindfold to see if he made the correct choice. Once that round is complete we will do the same thing with the groomsmen and Bride only this time she will have to guess by touching the knees of each groomsmen.
